21/12 FUTURE PROJECTS

The Chairman reported on his trip to Watford to see one of Proludic's Sports Legacy Zones in operation. This included climbing equipment, a BMX track, cable run, basketball court, outdoor gym and trim trail.

Mr Dickerson from Proludic showed Members a video of the interactive customer designed sports and play equipment. This enables people to download information on their smart phones using a QR Code. This enables them to access instructions, challenges and coaching programmes at basic, intermediate and advanced levels. As such the equipment can be used as just play equipment whilst the coaching takes it to another level. The ethos behind the equipment was that of “Helping communities to a lasting legacy through play, sport and fitness”. The website is www.proludic.co.uk

It was explained that Proludic would assist with the bids for funding having completed the initial design and a “People – Places – Play funding document was handed out to the Members. In this respect it was pointed out that there were several partner organisations such as the schools, Trent & Dove and Burton Albion together with a history of planning to meet the need. This had been well documented in the Burton Mail article of 29 March 2012.

Proludic also explained that after the site was opened by a local Olympian they were willing to support the scheme over the longer term including a 3 year maintenance guarantee.

It was suggested that the Youth Council Members should be involved in the bidding process.
