1. Introduction

This is the second Parish Plan for Winshill produced by Winshill Parish Council. It continues and extends the work undertaken since the first Plan in 2009 to improve Winshill’s physical environment, local services and community identity. It adds a new concern about people’s livelihood. Based on consultations with residents and groups in Winshill Parish, the 2013 Parish Plan sets out what is important to people in Winshill, and how their wellbeing can be supported and improved in the years to come.

2. The planning framework

The local Planning framework has changed since the first Winshill Parish plan was introduced. There are three different types of local plan that can directly affect life in Winshill. They have confusingly similar titles:

1. “Parish Plan” - Winshill Parish has one – this is it
2. “Local Plan” by the local planning authority – East Staffs Borough Council’s Local Plan includes Winshill and is well advanced
3. “Neighbourhood Plan” – there isn’t one yet for Winshill

Parish Plans

A Parish Plan is a statement from people living in the parish saying:

- How the future of the parish can be safeguarded.
- What facilities the parish needs for the future.
- What is important to people in the parish.
- What new developments are acceptable.
- What problems need to be tackled.

Local Plans

Every local planning authority – in our case East Staffordshire Borough Council - must now produce a ‘Local Plan’ setting out how it will develop the whole Borough over the next twenty years or so. Such a Local Plan will consider what is to be preserved and what is to change in Burton between now and 2031. There are no major developments proposed for Winshill, but there will be a variety of small developments to consider.

Neighbourhood Plans

A ‘Neighbourhood Plan’ is a very new, and optional, type of development plan that can be produced for a small area like Winshill. There is a formal process needed to get a Winshill Neighbourhood Plan, which must be consistent with the Local Plan. If agreed, a Neighbourhood Plan would have statutory significance. A Parish Plan is a good basis for developing a Neighbourhood Plan. Winshill Parish Plan’s ‘Winshill Village Design Statement’ is the section most close to a ‘Neighbourhood Plan’.

Why Winshill Parish Plan is worthwhile

Although not having formal statutory power, Winshill’s Parish Plan is worthwhile because it :

- enables our community to engage meaningfully with local development processes;
- makes known those issues that affect the community;
- identifies and prioritises wider key Issues within community;
- helps to identify and plan action that our local community can undertake itself, such as carrying out environmental improvements;
- produces an Action Plan to promote the changes that our community wants to see at parish, district and county levels;
- influences the formal planning system by: -
  - identifying parish needs for affordable housing or community facilities;
  - enabling the production of a design statement for new development in the parish;
  - identifying which open spaces are needed and valued for community use;
  - suggesting the sort of regeneration that would help with community livelihoods and services.

3. A new format for the Parish plan – what is “needed” for “Winshill Wellbeing”

People continue to tell us that overall Winshill is a pleasant and friendly place with a positive community spirit. There is less crime and anti-social behaviour than in the past. For most people most of the time Winshill is a desirable community that supports the wellbeing of its residents. So we have adopted this idea of community wellbeing as the basis for developing and refining this new Parish Plan.

Wellbeing for an individual or family is to feel ‘at home’ in Winshill. Winshill is seen as a good place to belong to – a good base from which to achieve as much ‘health, wealth, and happiness’ as you can, given your present circumstances. And perhaps a place where you can give support to help local friends and neighbours do the same.

A successful and happy community is one where most people can meet their core social needs as fully as possible. Where lots of people are unable to do this, there will be an unhappy community, usually with lots of isolation, personal stress, social exclusion, prejudice and hostility, anti-social and perhaps criminal behaviour, which further reduces wellbeing for everyone.

This Parish Plan sets out the actions Winshill Parish Council will undertake with its partners over the next 5 years. The Plan aims to strengthen community wellbeing by helping people meet their core social needs as fully as possible - whatever their particular circumstances. We will do this in various ways, including by seeking to:

- support existing community arrangements already meeting core needs
- improve or introduce new community arrangements to meet core needs better
- improve information about local community arrangements to meet core needs
- resolve community concerns and disagreements about current arrangements to meet core needs, or the breakdown of these arrangements
- help people to get to a service that would help them better meet their specific individual core needs of the moment

4. Core needs for wellbeing in the community

From what you say we have decided to focus our Action Plan by looking at these four core social needs that most Winshill individuals and families seem to have, and which underlie their wellbeing.

1. livelihood - needing to find the money to “make a living”, whether this comes from paid employment, pensions, benefits, running a small local business, self-employment from home, income from savings and investments, or in other ways. This is an Action Plan to help people make an adequate livelihood to meet their core needs for material wellbeing.

2. relationships - needing positive personal contacts with others - a partner, or in families and households, with friends and neighbours, and across the community – that give us emotional wellbeing. This is an Action Plan to help people achieve a positive sense of self and supportive community relationships. Doing this limits the negative effects of such things as isolation, depression, violence and anti-social behaviour.
3. services – needing to have community services and facilities that provide both material and emotional wellbeing - chiefly through retail, health, housing, education, policing, transport, leisure and recreation, voluntary, and religious services and facilities. This is an Action Plan to maintain and extend services that meet local community demand, and to ensure people know what is available.
4. environment - the physical environment – whether natural or built - provides the location for wellbeing, so we need a good local environment. This is an Action Plan to ensure that the neighbourhood in which we live is well planned, clean and attractive, which you have told us gives you a sense of wellbeing.

Although we all have these core needs throughout our life, we meet them in different ways at different times. For example, the ways we meet our needs for recreation as a toddler, as a teenager, as a young adult, as a middle-aged person and as a pensioner are usually different. Winshill Parish Plan takes this fact into account as it looks at each sort of need.

We also take into account the differences of approach required according to gender, race, ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, and disability in order to ensure that all members of the Winshill community, although with individual differences, have an equal fair opportunity to maximize their wellbeing.

Lastly, we appreciate that actions identified under one specific core need for planning purposes will often have effects related to the other needs as well.

5. Our Consultation process

This is the process we used to produce Winshill Parish Plan.

a. using our normal Parish Council processes.

Winshill Parish Council is made up of 11 Winshill residents who meet each month at the Neighbourhood Resource Centre in Canterbury Road. The public may, and do, attend these meetings and raise concerns. Members of the public also contact individual Parish Councillors formally or informally to raise concerns or express views. Parish Councillors attend other local meetings or are otherwise in contact with a number of local groups and organisations. As local residents themselves, your Parish Councillors share some of the daily experiences and frustrations that the wider community has. All these contacts keep the Parish Council closely in touch with local concerns, and this information has helped to shape the Parish Plan. This includes acknowledgement that some of the actions in the last Parish Plan need to be continued.

b. using our three formal consultations with residents and others.

The Parish Council Newsletter included a questionnaire about the content of the new Parish Plan to every Winshill resident in the Spring of 2012. Over the Summer the Parish Council then canvassed every street in Winshill asking anyone who had a particular concern to display a card, and a Parish Councillor called to hear this concern a few days later. This process was completed by late Summer 2012. We also sent the main questionnaire to all voluntary organizations and groups in Winshill. In early February 2013 a proposed version of the Parish Plan was presented for final consultation at a public meeting at Winshill Neighbourhood Resource Centre. At every consultation stage there was fundamental agreement about the themes and actions to be addressed. All points raised in these consultations have been considered and substantively incorporated as actions in this Parish Plan.

c. adopting and implementing the Parish Plan

This Parish Plan was adopted by Winshill Parish Council at its meeting on 28 February 2013, together with appropriate arrangements for publicising it, and for its operational management.

The planned actions and progress in their implementation will be reviewed regularly at Parish Council Meetings, and revised where necessary to meet any new situations and concerns that arise in Winshill, with further public consultation if required.

Copies of Winshill Parish Plan will be available at the Canterbury Road Neighbourhood Community Resource Centre, and on the Winshill Parish Council website www.winshill.info/parish\_council.

6. What the formal Consultations told us.

We can summarise the overall message from the three rounds of public consultation and ongoing public feedback to the Parish Council as follows:

- most respondents liked the physical location and environment of Winshill – near to town yet semi-rural - with a few dislikes about roads and parking
- mixed views on community relationships - some liked the friendly and helpful people of Winshill community – others disliked antisocial behaviour (eg dog fouling, litter, rowdyism) when it happened
- mixed views of local services – some saw these as improving, others felt services were poor
- clear views that parks and open spaces needed developing especially to provide services for young people, and that various types of nuisance such as dog fouling, litter, poor parking, and unruly behaviour should be controlled
- clear views that the overall physical environment should be maintained and developed in keeping with how it is already, both by suitable new improvements and by dealing with a host of specific problems.
- specific views that there should be more floral features, but not more benches or new major Parish Council sponsored public events.

It was noticeable that while many of the responses were expressed in terms of either 'glass half full' or 'glass half empty', they tended to be mirror images of the same thing. For example, one comment might be to develop extra parking, while another objected to poor parking. Overall this suggested that both viewpoints were used to talk about the same 'glass' of adequate parking facilities, which all respondents valued, and which supported the actions already being taken by the Parish Council.

7. Winshill Parish Action Plan 2012 – 2017

Introduction to the Action Plan

Who does what?

This Winshill Action Plan sets out the specific actions that Winshill Parish Council aims to take in order to meet or support the community needs that have been identified. The Parish Council itself, although initiating the Parish Plan, is too small and limited financially to directly undertake all the actions identified. Normally we will work with other partners or funders, and these will be listed in a Parish Council management supplement to this Action Plan.

When will it be done?

Each action in the final version will have a timescale. Some actions, like managing litter, will be ongoing. Others will have a shorter or longer end point. Again, this will be listed in the management supplement.

What gets greatest attention?

The community sees some actions as more important or urgent than others. Sometimes the actions need to fit a timetable set by partners or those providing grants. In the final Plan we will give each action an initial level of priority - high, medium or low – although we know that changing circumstances can and will change priorities rapidly. Also again, this will be listed in the management supplement.

All action priorities and timescales will be based on responses taken from the consultations set against the opportunities and constraints of resources and external circumstances.
